

Hire staff with the skills you need

Jobfind's Employability Skills Training program can help you find the right staff to meet your business needs – at no cost to you.

✓ Are you looking for staff with the right skills? ✓ Could you use help to hire?

The Employability Skills Training program may be able to assist you!

About the program

The Workforce Australia—Employability Skills Training program supports people looking for work to increase their skills and industry awareness. The short training courses are tailored to local industries to prepare job seekers to meet local workforce needs.

Jobfind and its Registered Training Organisation partner deliver a 3–5-week generalist program to cover a range of industries. Our specialist program focusses on a particular industry so course participants can enter that industry with relevant skills.

All graduates learn and apply the Core Skills for Work Developmental Framework including communication, problem solving and working in a digital world.

For real-world experience, the program also offers participants workplace visits, trials, & apprenticeships or traineeships with suitable employers.

Our job matching and placement service connects job-ready program participants with hiring employers.

Benefits for employers

You can find, trial and hire employees from Jobfind's talent pool of program participants— at no cost to you.

- To find suitable candidates, Jobfind will work with you to understand your workforce needs and vacancies.
- We'll promote your jobs to our participants. You can also host participants to observe your business so they understand your expectations.
- We pre-screen applicants for you to send you people who are fit-for-purpose.
- Jobfind prepares people to work, and can even support them to attain specific licences to commence work with you.
- To trial a new employee first, Jobfind can arrange a work trial or government-funded internship with your business (PaTH or NEWP).

Our program is tailored to in-demand industries in your area. Talk to us about your industry.
